

To Whom It May Concern:

Academic Therapy Publications, Inc. (ATP) has been an established leader in the field of Special Education Publishing since 1965. Academic Therapy Publications has three divisions:

- ATP Assessments
- High Noon Books
- Arena Press

ATP Assessments produces some of the most popular psychological and educational testing materials. High Noon Books publishes and distributes a wide variety of phonic-based, high-interest/low level chapter books for struggling readers. Arena Press produces the Teaching Reading Sourcebook and Assessing Reading Multiple Measures which are best sellers that closely correlate with the Common Core State Standards for English Language Arts.

ATP materials are available for purchase through other distributors in the U.S. and many overseas locations. All materials are available directly from us, the publisher, at the lowest available retail prices with a minimal taxable handling charge.

Sincerely,

Joanne Urban
Operations Manager